Long long ago in America there was a boy and a girl. The boy's name was Gonzalo. He wanted to prove to his friends that he was the Great Gonzalo. Gonzalo wanted to prove to his friends so badly so he was going to prove it by staying in a scary house for a hole night on his own!! When he got there he opened the door with no one moving until... he fell as fast as lightning OFF!!! Gonzalo landed with a THUD. He was very confused. The small was eerie and very unfamiliar. The only sounds he could hear was the beating wind and people mulling (it was quite loud) about the joy of Ebenezer Scrooge's death. Then to his horror he turned his head to see... EBENEZER SCROOGE'S HOUSE!!!! There was nowhere else to go. For the first time in his life he was scared.

So he stood up and went into Ebenezer Scrooge's abandoned house. The house seemed like... like... like... dust and ding. But to his surprise a charming young dead frog floated round the corner spraying perfume. He was curious but floated down on his back. Gonzalo a map. When Gonzalo went into a room... some of Scrooge's workers roped up Gonzalo with chains then Curmudgeon pulled Gonzalo but while doing so Gonzalo fell down a parallel. Gonzalo was home she said.

Chloe and Twinkl

One there was a young girl called Chloe. She lived with her family in an overgrown village. As the leaves fell from the trees it was winter. All the villages were terrified of Twinkl, queen of evil winter. One night Twinkl came to the overgrown village in her snow filled carriage. When Chloe woke up, her hamster was gone!

Chloe pulled on her slippy, winter boots and her soft, thermal coat and stepped out into the crunchy snow. As Chloe got further into the forest, she heard a sound that felt like an ice cube to the soul.

Suddenly, Chloe saw a mix of snowy-arctic-foxes and sharp-eyed hawks. Soon they started chasing her but she was too quick. She climbed up a thick, nobbly oak tree. Soon enough the animals set off to look for an easier meal. Chloe climbed down from the tree and in front of her was a huge ice palace. She walked in. Why have you come here? Twinkl hissed. I have come for my hamster! Chloe replied. Twinkl turned and pointed meanly. Chloe clapped a hand to her mouth, there in front of her was a load of trapped pets in a block of ice as clear as crystal.

 On the coast of Wales a tiny drillage of cricetels were there was a flock of kind, firey phenexios and if they ever touched the sea they would turn to dust wich then turned to peramene fire. And when they rarely went to the friendly, small village and if humans saw them they would run away. One damp, rainy night two kind bearded phenexios called Lucinna and Jessica sat at the top of the anchor stair that led to the fossil beach. Well the other phenexios were hunting and eating mice. Then Lucinna squauked "Jessica look theres seals stuck on the coast line!" she shouted. Jessica looked she saw a seal looking at them for help. "Let's go and help it!" Lucinna despraitly squaked. Jessica looked at lucinna worriedly because she new the shore would be coming in in a few hours. Then Lucinna fly off unhurridly to the seal to get it in the water. Then a few minutes later Jessica finely went down to help. After they got the seal in the water... the water had got up to there wing they both looked at each other but before they could get out the turned into fire. To this day you can see the fire of the coast of Wales near the small village of cricetels.

One sunny morning, Harry woke up to the sounds of bawling stones as they were kicked by children playing curiously.
He looked out of his window and saw people having a raucous on the street and people playing Rite. That very moment, Hedwig (Harry's best friend) shot up excitedly and said "Today's the best day!" "Should we play Rite?" Harry asked. "No, said Hedwig.

They got dressed and wandered off to the Amphitheatre to watch a fight. In the middle of the show, the building started to shake. The people said "don't worry" but Harry and Hedwig sensed danger so they ran.

There was an ash cloud above the volcano Vesuvius and on earth quakes shook the ground. "What do you think we should do?" asked Hedwig. "RUN"

They ran as fast as they could, but as they were spending... a roar as loud as an elephant came from Vesuvius as it eagerly swarmed down all over the volcano. People ran with pillows over their heads. They ran.

They found themselves at the docks and a kind Englishman in let them on his boat. About seven minutes later they woke to when they had drifted to sea. They eventually came to an island.

Sixteen years later, they went back to Pompeii and it was a beach! Vesuvius was calm and still.

Year 4 Rags To Riches Story

The goblin and the Bakery

A 52 year old man called James he loves baking but he lives in a nasty dusty bakery with a creaky door and a broken window his wife Betty just slept she was very sad.

One that night, a ghostly colour it was as soft as a rain drop even the border going of sprinkles flying in the air what happening down there?? The next morning, 2 big trays of cupcakes and bread appeared on the work bench "who making these wonderful pastries?" he exclaimed.

After that day, James hid behind the curtain for a few minutes James was shocked 1 little goblin dressed in rags 20 cupcake mixtures made into cupcakes 3 croissants 5 pure chocolats 6 chocolate chip cookies then after all of the yummy treats were made they left gone like mist flying through the air.

"I will reward that little goblin" exclaimed James he went to a material and leather shop and bought millions of fabrics and made 1 pair of gloves, fluffy hat, leggings, a T-shirt and some shoes and put them in a box tied with a bow.

The next morning, the goblin saw the guard opened it and was happy two change clothes he used a half chocolate a cupcake and a biscuit and the baker never saw the goblin again..

The Pixie and the Hospital

Late at night, the nurse carefully walked into the room 718 to check up on Jake he only putted that antiques with tapestries on his wall and also. Unfortunately for Jake, the Hospital didn't have any Antiques left. Just the nurse picked her bag and walked back home but not her hand in glove from a dusty door because the Hospital has cracked down, really collapse not better from. As he knew that about 12:00, a Pixie named Sofia used her magic to teleport to behind the wall which is the Street the Hospital is on. Sofia carefully tip toed into the Hospital and saw a huge surgery medicine room. She looked around to see if anyone was there. It was all quiet in silence so she walked in the medicine room and looked extremely hard to find the exact medicines. Sofia was so upset that she wouldn't find any medicine so instead of finding some she would make some for Jake so he could get better soon. The problem was that the Pixie a few weeks for it to set. Sofia also looked at Jake's room while he slept so it looked nice. The next day, Sarah came in and straight away she noticed something different.

"Where on earth does all that!!" exclaimed Sarah. "I don't do this did I!!" questioned Sarah. She made oh yes so she went next and looked again for some medicine and then it worked with a note on it saying "Do not use for a week or two" from unknown person.

"Then it can help Jake" said Sarah. After a few days more the medicine was ready for Jake so Sofia walked into Jake's room and gave him the medicine for and looked the whole entire hospital and took a picture and sent it all over the internet. Everyone saw the picture and the most quietest building in town became the talk of town. The Hospital was now rich everyone got better in 2 days or 3 days. Sarah the nurse was so surprised when she saw all this stuff she took a look at her hand and saw a little pixie. Sarah's husband built them a party and had a lot of fun.

The Pixie and the Salvation Army

In a tiny village called Slumber Land, at the end of the road there was a very old salvation hub, with an owner called Monty, he was 68 years old with no wife, he was very lonely, the salvation hub was very dusty and there was hardly anything to see, but that was all going to change...

His night rose, Monty woke up to the sound of wings fluttering down stairs, but he was too tired to go downstairs so he tucked his head back on the pillow and went back to sleep.

The next morning, Monty woke up to 10 full boxes of popovers, goodies and 100 different selections of beautiful cakes, Monty was shocked "How is the whole wide world has this happened?" "It's wonderful!" Monty shouted, Monty wanted to find out who was helping him, but he didn't know how.

As his day, Monty wanted to find out who the creature was, so he hid behind the curtains and as the clock struck 12, the window popped open and... in came a... pixie! Monty tried as hard as he could to hold his breath. The pixie started working on some plus muffins, Monty could smell the muffins from behind the curtains he was very grateful.

The next morning, Monty felt he had to repay the pixie so he started working on one Emerald cookie and a lovely sparkling drink. The next night, Monty started packing away, and then he waited and the pixie came in once again and was very surprised to see lots of mini boxes full of clothes, and Monty was delighted to see the big smile on such a tiny creature.

Scientist Sam's Potion Lab.

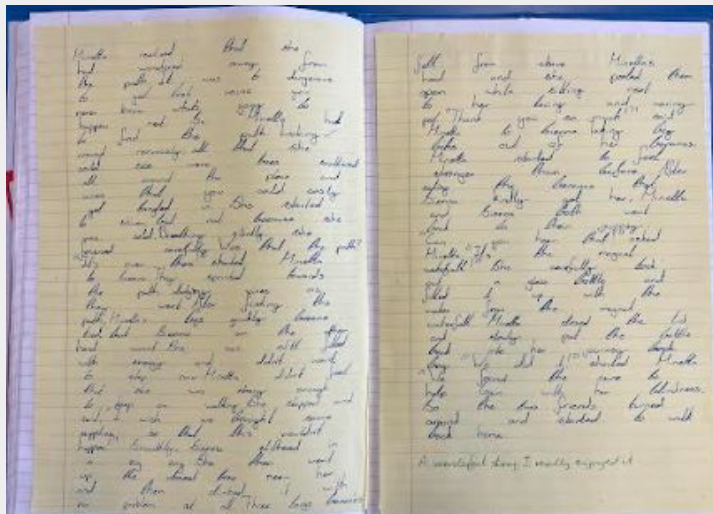

Scientist Sam makes the world's most powerful potions, his potion making lab is the most craziest place you could ever catch your eyes on! Bobby (Sam's assistant) was dusting the floor while grumbling, "Why do I have to do all the hard work?" while that lazy Scientist sits around doing nothing I'm here dusting all day," and, even though Bobby knew Sam liked a clean lab he chuckled all the dirty bottles into a crack in the floor!

The next morning, Sam had science contest to go to, he said to Bobby, "Don't forget to turn the spinning potion chamber off!" Sam exclaimed. Then, he chuckled his boots on, and set off! "Finally, that lazy slug is gone, now I can do what I want!" And I think I know what I want to do...

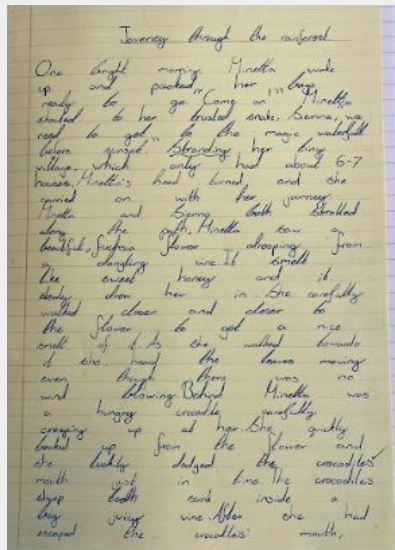

Bobby looks around the room for a while, and then...he finds the special key! He glared at the potion drawer and sprinted to it, it had rows and rows of potions. Bobby scooped one up, it said, Times Two, take 5 sips and count to 10... "This will be perfect! I can sit down and watch myself do all the work!" She was just about to take a sip but then she thought again, and said "This might not have been tested!"

Year 4 Discussion

I am publishing my discussion text.

P1 There are many arguments for and against children having homework. Many people believe that homework is a good change for children to continue their learning from home however children argue that they should not get homework. Read on to find out just what the conclusion to this major argument.

P2 Most children say that homework is bad but some think that it can be good and there are many reasons for that. Like it gives you something to do over the holiday and keeps you off of things like video game and it also gives you parents a change to get involved in your learning and help you on things that you can get stuck on.

P3 There are many reasons against homework for example children think homework is bad because they think that all work should be done in school and not sent home to be done. It also takes time away from hanging out with friends or playing and talking to family.

P4 Many children believe that they should not be given homework while other teachers argue that it is good but after close consideration on both sides I have come to the conclusion that children should not be given homework.

I am publishing my ~~star~~ discussion text.

P1 There are many arguments for and against children having a mobile & a phone. Many people believe that children should have a phone because they could call friends and family but on the other children could watch inappropriate stuff online. Read on to see both sides of this argument. Children should have a phone because they can communicate, play games, talk to relatives, friends and take pictures. If a child falls over or hurts themselves they could call a family adult to help them. It also helps a child stay active and plan to go to the park with friends.

P2 On the other hand phones are addictive and they might stay up all night on the phone and get barely any sleep. Children also might take it to school and do off task and cheat on tests. Some children might go on inappropriate websites, text mean things about other children and children could get hacked, tracked and hackers could get private information about that child. After reading both sides of the argument I think children should not have a phone because the children that have phones might bully the children without phones and make those children upset and maybe make them cry.

I am publishing my discussion text.

P1 There are many arguments for and against children owning a phone. Some parents believe children should own a phone for research and fun on apps and games but on the other hand parents think they shouldn't as it is a distraction to their learning. Read on for more information.

P2 The first argument for owning a phone is that if you are out on your own and something happens you could tell your parents. Secondly your parents can keep track of where you are in case your somewhere dangerously. A child is out and they really hurt themselves they can call 911.

P3 The second argument for not owning a phone is children can watch very inappropriate things such as youtube and tiktok. Secondly children can show off their phone to others if they don't have a phone or a less expensive phone. You also have to pay for your phone monthly and children may not have that money.

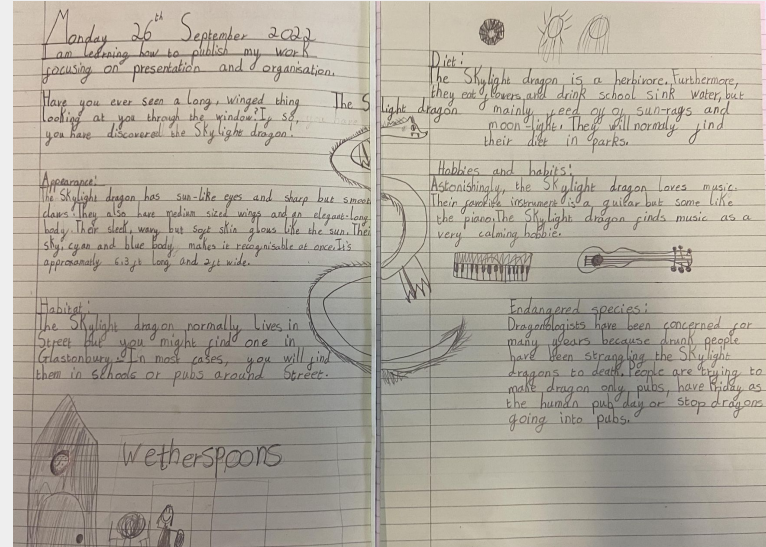

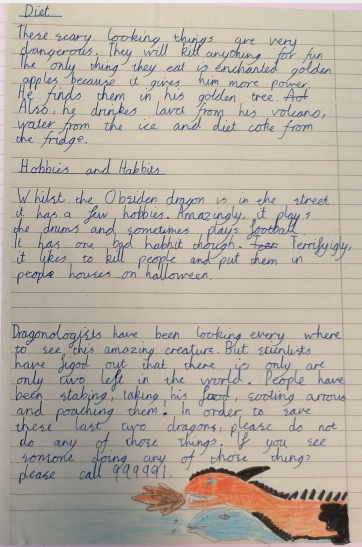

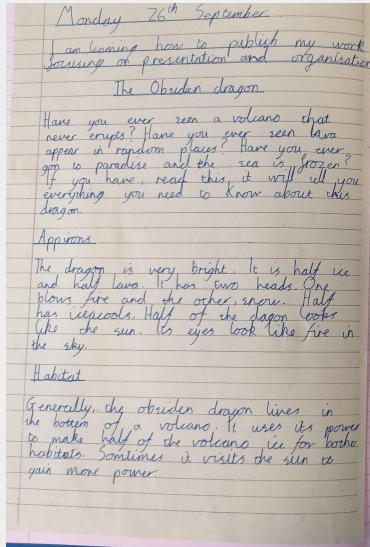

P4 In conclusion, looking at both sides of the argument my opinion would be you should own a phone as it helps with research.

Brooke's Haunted Lesson

"I really want to go and visit the abandoned, haunted cabin!" Brooke exclaimed. "All of my friends have seen and visited it - except for me, I left out!"

"Oh well, I'm not taking you on. Ghosts could suck your spirit out of yourself," replied Coda, who Brooke's older brother. As Coda gave Brooke a seat and placed some long sticks on the fire with his paw, but their spirits didn't get sucked out!" Brooke protested. "Their lack! Doesn't mean nobody will lose their spirits." Coda replied, "let's go to bed now." As Brooke rolled her eyes.

As Coda drifted off to sleep, Brooke sneaked out of the house and sprinted in the direction of the haunted abandoned cabin. It's so cold!" Brooke shivered.

"I'm here! Look at it! It's amazing! Plus, it's so cool and gives me haunted vibes!" Brooke exclaimed, while giving an admiring look towards the abandoned cabin. As she was admiring the view, she heard a noise. A very spooky noise. It was a howl. Brooke got so scared. Scared she sprinted into the haunted cabin's basement.

Back at home, Coda was woken by the howl. "I think I should go and check on Brooke," Coda suggested. Coda looked over to Brooke's bedroom. "What on Earth is there?" Coda shouted, in disbelief. As he searched through the house, in the end of realization, Coda realised that Brooke had went to the

Year 5 Explanation

The life cycle of a bearded dragon

Did you know that bearded dragons can hold their breath for two minutes at a time? Have you ever thought about the oldest bearded dragon being 18 years old? These remarkable reptiles go through a complete life cycle made up of 4 stages. This includes embryo, hatching, adolescent and adult stage.

Embryo Stage:

First, a female bearded dragon lays a clutch of eggs several times in a 6 month season; a clutch of eggs is approximately 20 eggs.

Hatching Stage:

Next, when the bearded dragon is about 8 inches in length it will then hatch out of its egg.

Adolescent Stage:

After that, the bearded dragon then becomes an adolescent (young adult) when it reaches 1-3 years of age.

The life cycle of a snail

Have you ever wondered if a snail can do most of the reproductive work? These harmless creatures have 5 stages. This includes mating, fertilisation, hatching, growing and adulthood.

Time to dance - mating

A female lays eggs on a male's belly. This has to be done carefully otherwise the eggs might get damaged.

Life begins - fertilisation

After dancing, the male's belly gets huge.

Eggs - hatching

Soon, the eggs are ready to leave the pouch. As soon as the eggs are born they swim away. The males try to get the eggs out quickly.

Egg - growing

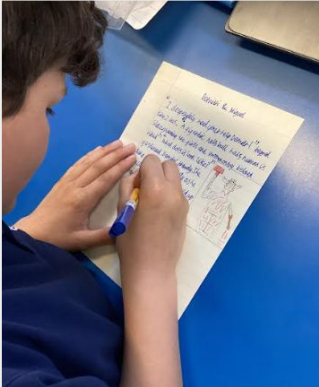

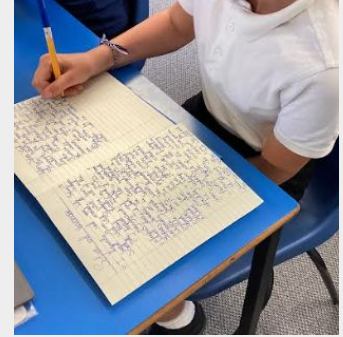

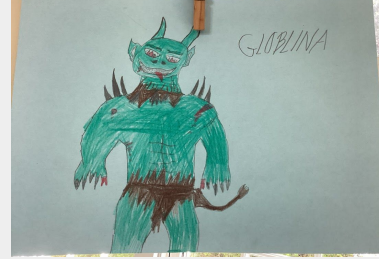

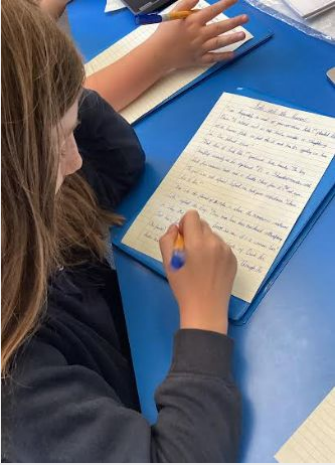

Frogs are too tiny to swim so they wrap their tails around plants or coral because they are only 5mm long. Sadly, some frogs get washed away.

Grows up - adult hood

The parents don't look after eggs. They have to find food for their self and hide from any predators.

TITLE QUESTION	Was Tutankhamun's Tomb Rescued?	Should children have to wear uniform at school?
INTRODUCTION Introduce the discussion theme Apostrophes	Tutankhamun's tomb Debate - was it rescued or stolen? Raging controversy debated for many years between archaeologists and the Egyptian people.	uniform, willigly debated, many arguments over the years has been discussed.
ARGUMENTS FOR Arguments in favour of the question Conjunctions & Generalisers	- Less would be known about the Ancient Egyptians. - Without professionals the tomb would have been pilfered. - Time, effort and money would have been wasted if contents was not removed fully.	Many people believe that your own clothes are comfy better. - less bullying - safer - Furthermore, it keeps us safe on school trips.
ARGUMENTS AGAINST Arguments in favour of the question Conjunctions & Generalisers	- Tombs are sacred burial sites - it is disrespectful to disturb them. - The tomb should have been excavated by Egyptians not foreigners. - Many artefacts were smuggled out of Egypt illegally.	On the other hand, - comfy - cannot express ourself - expensive/money - boring - wearing the same thing every day - stress.
CONCLUSION Give an argument for or against!	The tomb was stolen not rescued. - Archaeologists had no right to disturb the tomb. - They should not have removed the possessions. - Burial site of Tutankhamun should be respected.	Therefore I think that school uniform should be cancelled because the students will be comfier and may concentrate more.

I am learning to identify different types of conjunctions

The Minoans lived in clay brick buildings, in contrast the Mycenaens lived in mud brick buildings. As a result, the Mycenaens had one main palace and used slaves to look after the rulers. In addition, the Minoan men were topless and had colourful patterned clothes, never the less the Mycenaens also had colourful clothes but their fashion depended on their rank. Furthermore, the Minoan and Mycenaens both had skilled farmers and tradesmen.

I disappeared on the night before my 12th birthday. As I was upstairs taking all the wraps I heard a strange loud noise, in the attic I decided to investigate it as I slowly climbed up a mysterious hand caught me by the hair and dropped me somewhere I'd have never expected! I slowly lifted my eyes and found myself on the floor in front of two people sitting in a strange unknown language I never heard before. Why did you bring her here, argued the second one. Because I didn't know where to put her, argued the first one.

I interrupted them and asked where I was? But to my surprise they ignored my question and left through an unusual exit, the wall I searched for anything and found a wanted poster that had my picture on it. I hid inside a box it was a shadow climbing up it was a woman. She took the wanted picture and left me. I knew something was wrong. She looked genuine. Or could she be no left not jump to conclusions right no I need to find her to get out. I took a clock and put it on and left downstairs. Someone grabbed me! "He clock and said your not supposed to be here... umm my name is Holly. I only said that but they just walked away. Nothing happened."

Holly checked after them "I didn't quite get an name" Shuttering. Her name is Jesse but it seems that there is no point since I already said it. I asked what she meant but she splish something on me. That made me quite dizzy like I walked before my eyes!

There are some good ideas here. We will work on

I am learning to write a character description

Nastily, Mistress Darrot wacked the back of Mats hairy neck in disgust blood poured as Mat fell like a conker from a tree. For such a old woman she was incredibly strong. She had long silver-streaked greyish hair that was tied in a bun. Her smile was a triumphant, mocking smile that grew across her wrinkly face. But suddenly! A parrot appeared, which seemed to have a chain on its foot, had a bloody dagger in its mouth beak. The parrot swallowed it in an enjoyable way. On a parrot boy. On better pick these gloves up. Scowled Mistress Darrot.

Horrid boy. Horrid boy. Shrieked the greenish parrot. Mats eyes widened he shivered his eyes gazing at them. Ugh! Such a stupid boy. How come my slaves are so stupid. Did I get the wrong ones? Or is it I'm a bad owner. This is ridiculous. This disgusting boy. I'm so glad I sold his mother and brother. Ugh, so pathetic. This kid doesn't know how cruel I can be. I am gonna give you a nightmare. Mistress Darrot glared a him annoyed. Pick these up. Love out of my way slave. Shouted the parrot. Pick these up. Pick these up. Respected Mr Darrot, Bird Smirking at him.

I am learning to write an internal monologue

Its not like I wanted to eat his food. Its just that he wouldn't give me my dinner you know? Asking me if I could wait a little longer, telling me to sit on my bed. Do this, do that, blah blah BLAH. I wasn't there to wait. I was there to EAT. I was there to finally put a stop to my hunger so I could lie in peace.

Anyway its real hard for me as well! I let you don't even know what its like to gag on a plastic ball. But what am I supposed to do? Die of hunger? Pfft! I don't even know if that stupid human is ever going to feed me! Goodness knows, maybe I deserve it. But to be honest he isn't LOVE that ball. Might even give me food. Ah one can but dream.

Year 6 Instructions

Instruction writing

A guide to staging a successful rebellion

Are you tired of working 18 hours a day? Have you had enough? If so, follow these steps to achieve rebellion! What are you waiting for? These instructions have always been successful to other desperate slaves who want to achieve rebellion!

Disclaimer: These writers take no responsibility for failed rebel attempts. Make sure to take this note seriously.

What you might need to rebel successfully:

- A Sythe is ideal, which is pretty sharp, to put it in a fire;
- A paper towel - to scramble up and wet in hot water;
- A piece of glass - with a tiny bunch of hay to reflect and cause a fire;
- Lastly, a letter when you've finally achieved to rebel against them and make sure to tell them what you desire!

Important note: Do not tell any other slaves you do not know to your plans or they may jeopardise your own plans to rebel!

What you should do:

Firstly, as the sun has set and everyone is in a deep slumber, grab the Sythe and smash it in the tires of the machine so no one can use it.

Then after that, you might grab any piece of paper towel, dip it in a hot pot of water and gently lay it on your head for 15 minutes or so just so you can pretend to act ill.

At this point, now this one will be violent than the others in a secret place you know a piece of glass and a tiny bunch of hay lay the hay down and use the glass to reflect the sun and at this point you have learned to burn the plantation down!

Lastly, some extra detail your letter when your owners are fed up with you give this letter and now you have everything you desire!

Final note or warning:

Do not under any circumstances, share the instructions with any slave. I repeat or they will foil your plans! By telling them that you are rebelling and they can torture you and whip you till you're raw! I hope these instructions are some use to you carefully consider these risks and make your decision.

Instruction writing

A guide to staging a successful rebellion

Are you tired of being treated badly? Do you want to annoy your owner? Well if you are, these instructions are for you. These instructions work 99.99 percent of the time, in the past, so if you want to work 5 hours instead of 18, read on, these instructions are for you.

Disclaimer: The owner of these instructions does not take any responsibility for failed escapes!

What you will need:

- Tissues - make sure you have a lot of them
- Distinct types of mushed up food - carrots and potatoes
- Dust - from window or houses
- Water - to mix you up sick
- Hot water - from house to make your cheeks and forehead hot

What you should do:

First, take some tissues - get a lot of them and scratch them up to make it like they have been used. After that, mix the sick with the dust from the house, water and mushed up food and mix it together. Next, put the sick on the floor and get into your bed, and act sick.

With a great sight or noise, tell everyone to pour hot water on your cheeks and forehead. ^{while} you do this.

Important note: Make sure there is no one in your room while you do this.

Final word or warning:

If you follow these instructions be aware that if you get caught you could get tortured, abused, hit or taken away from family and friends. Plantation owners will be really angry if they find out you were taking it so we do not take any responsibility for anything that happens.

Diary Entry

May 16th, Monday, 2022.

Dear Diary,

I'm mad! I'm furious! I'm a raging inferno crazier than a blizzard! Flint finally came back and of course he brought a strange girl who, guess what? LIVED AT WINTERFANG PALACE! That's not the worst of it. HE SAID HER VOICE IS MAGIC! I told him magic doesn't exist. As always he ignored me. I question, is her voice really special? It can't be, can it? I can somewhat understand why he'd try to save Ma, but with those DUMB INVENTIONS - really! HE COULD HAVE DIED - he will when I get hold of him after this big detour. WHAT WAS HE THINKING? If that girl lived at Winterfang Palace she has to be a spy, prisoner or not. In the end I'm so glad Flint's back, my darling little brother.

These are my morning thoughts. Flint's not gonna be happy with his punishment. I mean how could he leave like that. He shouldn't have even dared to take the risk. What would Pa think of me, A CHIEF WHO LET HIS BROTHER ESCAPE AND DIE TO THE ICE QUEEN! I only kind of understand saving Ma, but why by himself. Lofi! AND inch did it from me, I can't believe it. It took a bit of brute force to spit it out - as well as a little bit of blood. I swear, if he doesn't return soon, WE MIGHT AS WELL CALL HIM DEAD!

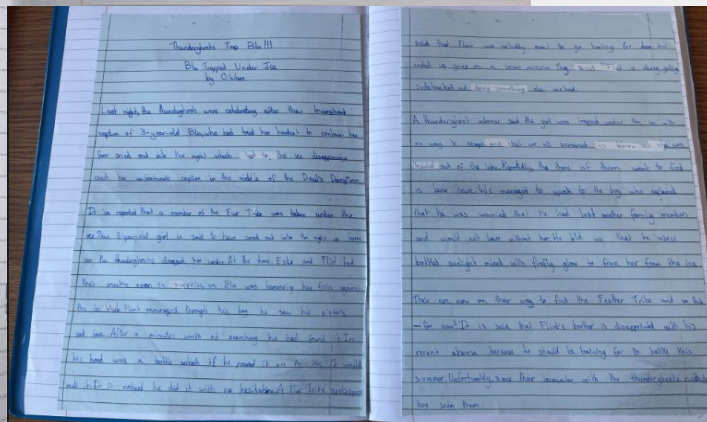

My thoughts on Flint's arrival at the time - thank god! My darling brother has returned at last. Out of nowhere, KAPLOW! An outsider. He brought an outsider. He tried to explain her voice's capability but I was having none of it - I don't know how he thought I'd react. He's so foolish - I had to hold in a laugh, a giggle managed to slip and he still didn't notice - I can't believe how trickable he is.

I still can't believe he wouldn't think of me ordering Blade to, "escort," her out of our lair. He was so sad when he found out.

Flint doesn't realise how hard it is for me to be a chief, and look after him and Blu at the same time. Honestly he needs to take some responsibility and GROW UP!

I hope he'll stay safe. Anyways, I'll write tomorrow

What do the polar features have in common?

- ✓ Glaciers, Tundra, Boreal forest, Mountain, Ice fields, Icebergs can be found in the Arctic and the Antarctic apart from boreal forest can only Arctic.
- ✓ Icebergs, Glaciers, Boreal forest, Tundra, Ice fields are and Mountains have wildlife on them.
- ✓ Hardly any plants grow on Tundra, boreal forest and Mountains.

Have you ever wondered what a wolf's favourite food is?

Have you questioned how many wolves are in a 'wargang' pack? These packy wolves have a mind of their own, friend and a predator and feared to all of their prey.

Appearance

They have a coat of fluffy snow over their fur coat. They use the snow on them to camouflage and creep up on their prey. Their tails have a tip of black on them and only a couple wolves have a tail with no black tip. The color of their fur can vary between black and browns and have very unique

Social feature: Finally they have long bushy tail.

Did

Grey wolves love to hunt in their pack of wolves. They are given a role depending on their age and skill on that role. A wolf usually hunts small things like a hare or a rabbit, but their favourite food is things that are bigger and have more meat like a moose or a deer. Though usually, you see wolves hunting for meat, they also eat berries time to time, they usually eat blueberries.

Habitat

Grey wolves live in colder climates because of their body adapting to the cold better than humans. A wolf with a cub will live in a den and take care of the cub for seven to eight months. These dens and cubs are
